

The Complete Poetical Works of Alfred Tennyson (Classic Reprint)

Revered, beloved Oyou that hold A nobler office upon earth Than arms, or power of brain, or birth Could give the warrior kings of old, Victoria, since your Royal grace To one of less desert allows This laurel greener from the brows Of him that utter dnothing base ;A nd should your greatness, and the care That yokes with empire, yield you time Tomake demand of moderm rhyme If aught of ancient worth be there ;T hen while a sweeter music wakes, And thro wild March the throstle calls, Where all about your palace-walls The sun-lit almond-blossom shakes Take, Madam, this poor book of song ;F or tho the faults were tlick as dust In vacant chambers, I could trust Your kindness. May you rule us long.
And leave us rulers of your blood As noble till the latest day !M ay children of our children say, She wrought her people lasting good ;H er couit was pure ;her life serene ;G od gave her peace ;her laud reposed ;A thousand claims to reverence closed In her as Mother, Wife, and Queen ;A nd statesmen at her council met Who knew the seasons when to take Occasion by the hand, and make The bounds of freedom wider yet By shaping some august decree. Which kept her throne unshaken still Broad-based upon her peoples will,
And comjjass dby the inviolate sea.
MARCH, 1851. CLARIBEL. A MELODY. Where Claribel low-lieth The breezes pause and die. Letting the rose-leaves fall: But the solemn oak-tree sigheth, Thick-leaved, ambrosial. With an ancient melody Of an inward agony, Where Claribel low-lieth. At eve the beetle boometh A thwart the thicket lone :A tnoon the wild bee hummeth A bout the moss dheadstone :A tmidnight the moon cometh, And looketh down alone. Her song the lintwhite swelleth. The clear-voiced mavis dwelleth, The callow throstle lispeth, The slumbrous wave outwelleth, The babbling runnel crispeth, The hollow grot replieth Where Claribel low-lieth. LILIAN. I. A iry,
